To Whom It May Concern,

During her internship with our interactive graphics team, Xue Li demonstrated proficiency and adaptability in web development. She approached tasks with diligence and a willingness to learn, making valuable contributions to our projects. Her attention to detail and problem-solving skills were evident in her work, particularly in creating engaging interactive graphics. Xue Li was a collaborative team member, consistently displaying a positive attitude. I would recommend her for future opportunities in web development.

Sincerely,

Rodolfo Pazos

Interactive Graphics Editor
